

17.9 Multilingual Picklist Editor

It is necessary to configure multi-language drop-down menus when you have users accessing vtenext in a language other than Italian (the languages are available in User Preferences), and therefore must see the contents of the picklists translated, in addition to the labels. The picklists are accessible from the Module Manager.

Once the multi-language picklist fields have been created using the normal Layout Editor, the values must then be entered into the Multi-language Picklist Editor to be translated.

N.B.: the multi-language picklist adds the value "Please Select" even if this field is not mandatory.

Enter the values in the different languages:
